2014 NATIONAL HEALTHCARE ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES & HOUSEKEEPING WEEK

September 14-20, 2014

Dear Professional,

Leading the Way to a Healthier Environment

Simple words with great meaning. As consumers of health care, we all unknowingly depend on the critical yet unsung role environmental services plays in the delivery of safe, quality health care. The meaning of these words is substantial but the definition is simple, TEAMWORK. The daily duties of every environmental services team in all types of health facilities demonstrate conscientious effort toward Leading the Way to a Healthier Environment.

We all celebrate healthcare environmental services not as much as directors, managers and leaders but more so to display appreciation and recognition for the extraordinary teamwork of the front line as they care for the complex healthcare environment. Beginning Sunday September 14th through Saturday, September 20, 2014 AHE invites you to join all national and international environmental services professionals as we acknowledge and celebrate the remarkable work of these valued teams.

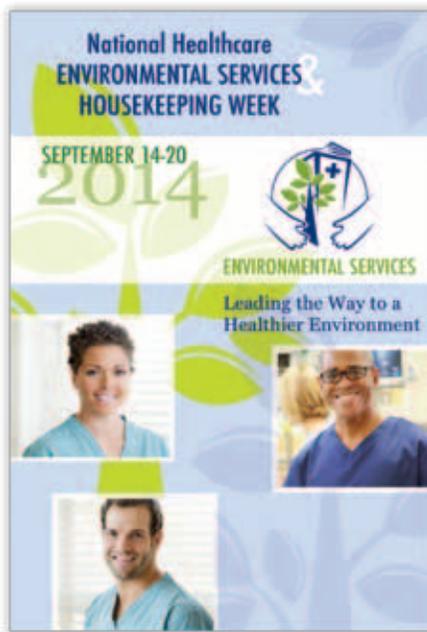

Each year recognition products are selected based on the valuable feedback from the EVS teams. Products that will applaud the work carried in their facilities and in their communities. Please take a few moments explore what new items you and your peers have selected to support the efforts to distinguish EVS during this time honored tradition. Whether you are an AHE member or not we are honored to celebrate this important week with you and your team of professionals.

We appreciate how tight your budgets are and we emphasize that products are selected based on the opinions of past customer but also on what the budgets can support. When choosing how you will celebrate and where you will buy from, remember that a percentage of proceeds from this celebratory week also help AHE continue to offer the member identified benefits such as free education, discounted pricing on publications and the EXCHANGE conference. This brochure displays products from the official AHE supplier to help select the perfect gifts to celebrate your teams.

On behalf of the AHE leadership team and staff, we appreciate the critical work and are proud of what your teams represent in healthcare. Keep up the amazing work you do on behalf of patients, families and residents of all healthcare facilities! You are our heroes!

Warm regards,

Patti Costello
AHE Executive Director
