RESPIRATORY THERAPISTS WORKING TOGETHER SAVING LIVES

RESPIRATORY CARE WEEK 2017 OCTOBER 22-28

Start planning now to show your enthusiasm and pride in your chosen profession.

No matter where you work in respiratory care, whether it's neonatal-pediatrics, geriatrics, emergency care, pulmonary rehabilitation, acute care, home care, education, sleep, or another specialty, your role as a respiratory therapist is to restore and improve lung health to patients' lives. Respiratory Care Week is the time to tell your story. During this week, the AACRC encourages you to reach out to the general public, your patients, and your colleagues in healthcare, and inform them about the unique healthcare benefits that respiratory therapists provide.

- Promote lung health awareness in your community.
- Educate local students about respiratory care as a career.
- Demonstrate the value of respiratory therapists in your facility.
- Plan events for recognition and fun with your respiratory care colleagues.
